FITNESS/MOBILITY

Your place on the course is accepted on the understanding that you appreciate possible risks inherent in a study programme and that you join the course on that basis. Just like Attingham Trust courses in England and abroad, domestic Study Trip schedules are intensive and include visits or activities which require a reasonable and sustained level of mobility and fitness. Our study trips typically require stair climbing in addition to walking and standing for long periods; not all properties will have elevators, for example. Unfortunately, we cannot guarantee ADA-accessibility for all sites.

If you have an accessibility considerations or concern, please let us know when you register. Ultimately, we rely on your assessment of your own ability to participate as fully as possible.

Thank you! For any questions, please don't hesitate to contact admin@americanfriendsofattingham.org or call (212) 682-6840.

We look forward to seeing you in deep in the heart of Texas!
